Level Term Life Insurance

Safeguard Your Family

Protect the income your family will lose if they suddenly lose you

- Do you have a plan to replace lost income due to the death of a breadwinner?
- Do you have an emergency fund large enough to support your family for a long period of time?
- Can your savings cover the cost of child care?

Give your family the gift of financial protection

- The projected, estimated cost of raising one child from birth to age 17 is $234,900 (without factoring in inflation) for middle-income families.¹
- On average, the cost of out-of-home child care for one child under age 15 ranges from $6,000 to $7,500 per year.² You or your spouse could face these costs alone.
- Monthly obligations, such as mortgage, groceries, and utilities will continue after the loss of a spouse. In most cases, inflation adds to the financial burden.
